Take tram to New Addington which is the final stop on the line. When you get off the tram cross the road towards a large green which is slightly bearing to the right. At the entrance to the green you will see some large carved wooden animals. Walk across the green towards North Downs Road and the Waste Recycling Centre. Next to the waste centre, you will find a footpath which will take you down the hill towards Featherbed Lane. Once you reach the bottom of the hill turn left towards Farleigh Dean Crescent. You will find another footpath which runs parallel to Featherbed Lane. After about 500 yards you will see a stile on the right hand side and the campsite is directly opposite. Carefully cross the stile and Featherbed Lane to reach the Frylands. The walk should take you between 15-25 minutes depending on ability.
